

Double J Novice/Intermediate Stockdog Clinics

Orange Cove, CA

What: Stockdog clinic held over two days with a guarantee of two works each day using sheep. Ideal for novice and intermediate handlers and any level of dog. Also ideal for starting a pup (minimum 7 months old). Arena, round pen, alleys, working pens, and big field available at this beautiful facility.

When: Two separate clinics will be held -- January 10-12, 2025 and February 14-16, 2025.

Each clinic will run Friday and Saturday (8:00-5:00) and morning only Sunday (7:00-10:30).

Where: Bear View Ranch, Orange Cove, CA

Camping: Dry camping on site at no charge

Lunch: Bring a sack lunch and eat together with Guy and Angie.

Cost: $375 per dog per working spot per clinic ($275 for a second dog, same handler)
$50/day to audit.

Clinicians: Guy & Angie Johnson of Double J Border Collies. Angie and Guy are open-level handlers and trainers who compete actively in NCA, MSSA, and USBCHA trials. They have been breeding and training top quality working border collies for the past 17 years and providing novice clinics for their puppy owners for the past 6 years. What sets them apart as clinicians is their approachability and communication skills. They both have an ability to work effectively with people who are new to herding and to explain things in a manner that works for them.

Working spots secured by $200 deposit (mail to Double J Border Collies, 1510 W Fairground Rd, Artesia, NM 88210 or Paypal using this email angie@doublejbordecollies.com as friends and family.)

